

GLASS ACTION

Health Canada's website states that as of January 31/11, there were 116 First Nation communities in Canada that were on drinking water advisories; or 1 in 6 communities. The Centre for Indigenous Environmental Research has discovered the number is actually 1 in 3. We need to show the Prime Minister of Canada the number of people that go without this basic right to life. Join us in sending an empty glass for water to parliament hill... an empty glass for every person in the over 100 First Nation communities that are not being heard.... let the empty glass speak for them, and stand for them, in the Prime Minister's office.
