

Prime Minister Harper,

Access to clean, safe water is essential to life. Yet, many of our First Nation communities in Canada can not go to a tap and get a glass of safe drinking water.

The Chiefs of Ontario have declared that decision-making processes related to the use and care of waters is a right maintained by First Nations and was not handed over with the making of treaties.

Bill S-11, sets First Nation communities up to fail, and opens the door to privatization of water. Water is sacred, not a commodity. Water is a right to all life, including humans.

This glass is to remind you that a person is on the other end, waiting to turn on their tap, pour a safe glass of water, and drink it without fear.

Thank you,

Name:

Address:

Prime Minister Harper,

Access to clean, safe water is essential to life. Yet, many of our First Nation communities in Canada can not go to a tap and get a glass of safe drinking water.

The Chiefs of Ontario have declared that decision-making processes related to the use and care of waters is a right maintained by First Nations and was not handed over with the making of treaties.

Bill S-11, sets First Nation communities up to fail, and opens the door to privatization of water. Water is sacred, not a commodity. Water is a right to all life, including humans.

This glass is to remind you that a person is on the other end, waiting to turn on their tap, pour a safe glass of water, and drink it without fear.

Thank you,

Name:

Address:

Prime Minister Harper,

Access to clean, safe water is essential to life. Yet, many of our First Nation communities in Canada can not go to a tap and get a glass of safe drinking water.

The Chiefs of Ontario have declared that decision-making processes related to the use and care of waters is a right maintained by First Nations and was not handed over with the making of treaties.

Bill S-11, sets First Nation communities up to fail, and opens the door to privatization of water. Water is sacred, not a commodity. Water is a right to all life, including humans.

This glass is to remind you that a person is on the other end, waiting to turn on their tap, pour a safe glass of water, and drink it without fear.

Thank you,

Name:

Address:

Prime Minister Harper,

Access to clean, safe water is essential to life. Yet, many of our First Nation communities in Canada can not go to a tap and get a glass of safe drinking water.

The Chiefs of Ontario have declared that decision-making processes related to the use and care of waters is a right maintained by First Nations and was not handed over with the making of treaties.

Bill S-11, sets First Nation communities up to fail, and opens the door to privatization of water. Water is sacred, not a commodity. Water is a right to all life, including humans.

This glass is to remind you that a person is on the other end, waiting to turn on their tap, pour a safe glass of water, and drink it without fear.

Thank you,

Name:

Address: